

John A. Fahey, Cmdr

NAA President
September 1995-
September 1997:
Commander John A
Fahey Cmdr. Fahey flew
US Navy Airships during WW2 and into the 1950s. Fahey has a BS in Military Science from the University of Maryland, and a
Master's degree in Education from the College of William and Mary. Cmdr. Fahey was a qualified interpreter and translator of the Russian language.

Among assignments after graduation from the postgraduate intelligence course at the U. S. Naval Intelligence School were Director of the Navy Language School and an assignment to the Soviet army behind the Iron Curtain in East Germany. Following retirement from the Navy, Cmdr. Fahey became Associate Professor of Foreign Languages and Literature at Old Dominion University in Virginia. Among his seven published books, he wrote a self-published book on his LTA experiences, titled "Wasn't I the Lucky One".

You can see more about him at www.johnfahey.net.